ABSTRACT

In recent times the concepts of Workplace Spirituality have been acknowledged as an important humility for supplementing a meaning environment. Today's organizations are compelling the need for committed persons for its growth and development. This is obviously workable when the experts in a work set-up can infer importance and essential in their work profile. Emotional Intelligence is about the ability to reason and solve problems based on the emotions that we experience. In other words, the person who has the Emotional Intelligence is aware of emotions in him/herself and others and uses reason to identify, understand and handle the emotions effectively.

The objectives of this study are to explore the levels of Workplace Spirituality, Organizational Commitment and Emotional Intelligence, explore the relationship between Workplace Spirituality and Organizational Commitment and to investigate the moderating role of Emotional Intelligence on the relationship between Workplace Spirituality and Organizational Commitment in the selected schools from Koralaipattu Educational Division. To attain these objectives, the data were collected through 53 items questionnaires which was filled by 174 school teachers of selected schools in Koralaipattu Educational Divisions that were selected by simple random sampling technique. Based on the findings of the study, it concludes that there are high levels of Workplace Spirituality, Organizational Commitment and Emotional Intelligence. The findings also revealed that there is strong positive relationship between Workplace Spirituality and Organizational Commitment. Emotional Intelligence does not moderate the relationship between Workplace Spirituality and Organizational Commitment. Results of the study suggest that that there is no moderating role of Emotional Intelligence in the relationship between Workplace Spirituality and Organizational Commitment.

Key words: Workplace Spirituality, Organizational Commitment, Emotional Intelligence
