ABSTRACT.

This project report was submitted as my final year subject of Research Methodology. Title of the study is "Land usage and development in Muthur divisional secretariat" probably all the collecting data deeply analyzed the through the questionnaire and direct observation, in the field of Land usage and development, 100 samples were taken to families.

This study was divided 5 chapters. In the First chapter proposal for the study, described in the second chapter literature review, collected data through the questionnaires were analyzed in the third chapter. The fourth chapter consists the data analysis for the above collected data and final chapter includes the conclusion and recommendations from the research.

And also research has fourth chapter, problems facing when using the resources also included and fifth chapter suggests some project plan to use resource effectively, which was identified. I would like to develop my study area with the help of government and non-government organization.

Hence the success of this study is completely depend on co-operation of departments and individuals.
