ABSTRACT

The nature has gifted human beings many fortunes. Beach is the most valuable assets that nature has gifted for the relaxation of mankind. Relaxation is necessary not only for his physical body but also for his good health especially does it soothes the nerves and the mind after hard work and worries of life. The people of my area have chosen, visiting the beach is their only entertainment in preference to the other as their attitude; religion and culture do not permit attending to social gatherings and clubs where men and women get together and work together for the amusements and social activities. Although fortunately this area of the people have gifted with such a natural, beautiful beach with full of natural resources, it has ruined day by day due to natural resources get ruined, illegal encroachment of land by people, illegal construction of building, improper maintenance, and the previous development activities of the beach.

Because of these above reasons it necessitated me that I should devote my time on research to find out ways and means to keep the condition of the beach in sound state. I hope that my research on development and management of Kattankudy beach would definitely help the sympathizers of this pathetic situation of the beach at present for their contribution to develop the beach to an international standard.
